SNOW ORDINANCE IS PUT TO DEATH

Death Sentence is Sounded When Proposed Measure Comes up
For Second Reading.

DISCREPANCY IN SEWER FUND

Bond Coupons in Sum of $1,792 Are Due With $1,300 to Pay Them
—on Former Treasurer.

Contrary to all expectations the council did not pass the snow ordinance. In fact the ordinance was handed the death wallop on the second reading. The ordinance was advanced to second reading and on the roll call was killed by a vote of four to one. Councilman Scudder was the only member voting in favor of the ordinance.

There was no discussion over the proposed law and it was put to death with a suddenness that was a big surprise. When the ordinance was introduced Councilman Wagoner was the only member openly opposed to it and after lying on the shelf for two weeks the other members seem to have taken his view of it as Council Brann, Mauzy, Lee and Wagoner voted "no" on the roll call. When the ordinance was read for the second time Scudder called for a vote and this resulted in killing the ordinance. Several members of the council stated afterwards that they believed the proposed law was too radical and would work a hardship on people owning vacant lots.

Discrepancies of a glaring nature in the books at the city treasurer's office under the Democratic administration were reported to the council by City Treasurer Stech. The shortage is in the sewer fund. Coupons from sewer bond to the amount of $1,792 are due and payable to the Peoples National bank. But there is only $1,300 in the fund. On several improvements put through by the former administration some of the assessments have never been paid and in one or two instances the bond coupons are for an amount in excess of the amount collected under the assessment roll.

The bond record is all mixed up and will have to be gone over and straightened out. One instance of how the city has been losing money on sewer bonds is shown in the George street improvement. This improvement was put through last year by the Black administration. M. E. Dale holds the bonds for lot 31. The coupon calls for $6.38 and there has only been $5.74 collected in the treasurer's office under the assessment roll. This sixty-four cents shortage has been paid by the city and never discovered until now.

There are several other instances and the council believed that the best thing to do was to employ an expert to go over the bond books and find how much short the fund really is and see if there is not some way of collecting the money. Some one was at fault in issuing a bond for more than the amount to be collected on the improvement and the city sees no reason why it should stand the loss.

The city clerk was instructed to get prices on one front and one rear wheel for the fire wagon. The wheels are loose on the axle and in case of an emergency the city should have the wheels for immediate use.

The question of the drain at the hitch rack was again before the council.

The clerk was instructed to notify the city board of health about the matter and to see if they could not compel the property owners to put

TODAY IS MORE AGREEABLE

Much Higher Temperature Registers
Colder Weather is Coming.

The weather was a little more agreeable today, although the temperature still hovered below freezing. Twenty-two degrees above zero was the maximum temperature recorded here today. The minimum temperature registered this morning was four degrees above zero, which is fourteen degrees higher than yesterday's low mark. The weather forecast today, however, says that it will be colder tonight.

CAR LOAD OF FLOUR LEAVES HERE TODAY

One Thousand Sacks, Gifts of People of Rushville and Vicinity
Starts on Way to Belgium.

TO BE SHIPPED ABOUT XMAS

One thousand sacks of patent winter wheat flour, the best which C. G. Clark & Sons make, all loaded in one car, was taken out on a Big Four freight today, bound for Port Richmond, Philadelphia, where it will be loaded aboard a vessel bound for Belgium, along with hundreds of thousands of other sacks of flour which the American people are sending to the stricken people of Belgium to keep thousands from starving to death this winter.

The car was addressed to William C. Edgar, trustee, editor of The Northwestern Miller, the Minneapolis trade journal which started the nation-wide movement among the millers of the United States to raise a cargo of flour. The ship will set sail from Philadelphia soon after Christmas. Mr. Edgar will accompany the flour to its ultimate destination, and it will be under his personal supervision, control and direction. The sea freight is paid by the Northwestern Miller and railroads in the United States and Canada hauled all relief flour free of charge.

ABERNATHY HOME IN MAYS BURNS TODAY

Fire From Defective Flue Sets Upstairs in Flames Before Mrs.
Abernathy Discovers it.

HUSBAND AWAY AT THE TIME

The residence of Omer Abernathy in Mays was entirely destroyed by fire this morning about eleven o'clock. Only a small amount of the household goods was saved. The fire is believed to have resulted from a defective flue. Mrs. Abernathy was alone at the time and the falling of bricks attracted her attention. She found the roof and upstairs on fire, upon investigating. The flames made rapid headway and it was only a little while until the entire house was in flames. An effort was made by a bucket brigade to fight the flames but they spread too rapidly.

The house was an eight-room, story and one-half frame structure and was partially covered by insurance although the exact amount is not known. Mr. Abernathy is a substitute mail carrier out of Mays and was not at home at the time.

Sickness Causes Distress in Many Homes While in Others Men
Are Out of Work.

The names of children who will not be on speaking terms with Santa Claus this year unless the Good Fellows League comes to their rescue are coming in to the headquarters of the League much faster just now than they are being taken out by the Good Fellows. In other words, some little folks are going to be minus some Christmas cheer unless more Good Fellows come to the front.

The fact is being developed that conditions are worse this winter than they were last winter. Notations made by charity workers who are gathering the names, ages, sex and addresses of the wards of the Good Fellows League prove the sad plight of many parents who will not be able to keep their faith with their little tots and make the Santa Claus myth seem a reality.

Let's get in touch with a few instances. Down in West Second street there is a family of two children. The father is out of work and an uncle who lives with them has been sick with typhoid fever for three months. These two children, however, have been taken by a Good Fellow.

Then in the same neighborhood is a family of five children, all under nine years of age. Three of the children were sick with typhoid fever for ten weeks last fall and it is easy to imagine what a drain on the family pocketbook that would be. It goes without saying that the father, who does not have work all of the time, will be unable to buy any gifts for the tiny tots because he will do well to keep them supplied with food and clothes to keep them warm.

In North Hannah street are two children in a home where a long string of reverses has discouraged the father and mother, who are both working a good part of the time. The family is trying to recover from one misfortune after another. Both of the children have been sick with typhoid fever during the year and a third child of the family has gone to a happier land during the year. The father, too, was sick for a long time and an immense doctor bill was piled up, to say nothing of the other expenses and the loss of time from work.

Then next on the list comes a family of nine. Three of them are children of an age which the Good Fellows help. The head of the house is working all the time at twelve dollars a week, but he finds that when nine mouths are to be fed and nine bodies are to be kept warm with clothing, and that house rent has to be paid and coal purchased, there is nothing left for anything else.

In a family in Spencer street are five children. The father declares that he is out of work and money and is unable to get either.

Next in order is a little orphan five years of age. She is supported by her grandmother, who has to work also to keep her husband who is old, and sick all of the time. There is an older boy in the family who helps with the support of the household but he has been out of work for over a month.

In Buena Vista avenue is a family

SHOWS VALUE OF GOOD FOOD

Dr. J. B. Kinsinger Discusses "Intelligent Feeding" at Parent-
Teachers Association Session

LONG DISCUSSION IS HELD

Physician Asserts That as a Man
Eats and Digests His Food so
He is—Other Thoughts

Dr. J. B. Kinsinger discussed "Intelligent Feeding" in a paper read last night at the meeting of the Parent-teachers association of Graham school, which developed into one of the best and most interesting ever held in the history of the association. There was a long discussion at the conclusion of the paper, in which a number took part. Miss Mary Moore, visiting nurse, and Miss Kate Dennis, domestic science teacher in the schools, both made good points in their talks. Miss Mary Louise Poe sang a solo.

Dr. Kinsinger said at the outset he would start with a proposition on which all agreed: "Man's body is a product of what he eats, drinks, thinks, breathes and does, but the greatest of these is 'eats.'" Proper food, he said, is the prime essential to sound bodies, sane minds and the ennoblement of aspiration and hope.

Dr. Kinsinger continued: Biologically considered, man is nothing but a stomach with its appendages—an organized group of organs clustered about his food tube. Now, these organs, together with the food tube, constitute an exquisitely delicate mechanism, the orderly working of which depends entirely upon one's manner of feeding.

As a man eats and digests his food so he is. Thus if you, dear parents and teachers, desire to live the efficient life and have your children grow up in efficiency, you will have to mix a little gray matter with your food. That is to say, you must become informed (for few of us already know) as to what foods are incompatible and what foods are not. Foods are simply chemical elements, and when properly combined all is harmonious; but when haphazardly indulged in they invariably undergo decomposition and fermentation, the sequel of which is autotoxemia, or poisoning by one's own secretions, in its various manifestations, such as nervousness, headache, neuralgia, emaciation, rheumatism and scores of other diseases that for many years past have been charged to other causes.

Most of us are feeding wrongly. We take the wrong articles of diet. We eat too much. We eat too fast. We eat when there is no need for food and often in the wrong way; and the consequence is that we are a disease-ridden people, and are likely to remain so until our ignorance and our sin of gluttony are removed.

In truth, life is maimed and but half what it might be solely on account of preventable sickness and disease. Sound health means living by knowledge, not by chance. To be sick is to acknowledge to the world that you have not been living right. Your daily mistakes in eating have overbalanced the inherent tendency of your body to be well.

Ever since we could comprehend the utterances of a kind parent we have been wisely admonished not to eat between meals, which much to our physical and mental undoing the haphazard mixing of foods was markedly encouraged—due to an erroneous idea as to the importance of a variety of foods. It is usually

Shell Does Damage to Northern Daily Mail at Sunderland.

(By United Press.)

Sunderland, Eng., Dec. — News reaching here of the bombardment of Hartlepool is that a submarine accompanied the two German cruisers which shelled the town. One shell fired by the Germans crushed through the glass roof of the composing room of the Northern Daily Mail. Great damage was done when it exploded.

MRS. JOE J. CART HAS CHANCE TO RECOVER

Report Received Here That She Died From Injuries Received in Accident is Erroneous

DUE TO MISUNDERSTANDING

Mrs. Joe J. Cart of North Manchester, Ind., formerly of this county and a daughter of the late Reuben Alexander, who was reported to have died from injuries received in an accident last Friday night at Serbia, Ind., at which time her husband was killed, is improving and the physicians hold out some hopes for her recovery, according to a message received by Mrs. William M. Alexander, 912 North Main street, from her daughter, Mrs. Amos Blackledge, who went to North Manchester to attend the funeral.

It was erroneously reported that Mrs. Cart had died through a misunderstanding over the telephone. J. W. Mull, of Homer, a relative of Mr. Cart's, telephoned to North Manchester and understood that Mrs. Cart had died, and that a double funeral would be held Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock. This was thought strange at the time because Mrs. Alexander received a letter, postmarked Monday at 1 p. m., yesterday from her husband, a brother of Mrs. Cart's, saying that she was not dead. Mrs. Cart sustained a broken arm, some broken ribs and several bad bruises.

THREE SUITS ARE DISMISSED TODAY

Note and Account Case of J. W.
Tompkins Against L. B. Harris
Everett McMahan Settled.

TWO OTHERS GO SAME ROUTE

Several suits were dismissed in the circuit court today but outside of this there was nothing much of importance going on. The suit of J. W. Tompkins against Larry B. Harris and Everett McMahan, on a note demanding $125, was dismissed by the plaintiffs. It is understood that a settlement was reached. The costs were paid by Tompkins.

The suit of Edith B. Smith against Frank Curry, to foreclose a mortgage and asking for a receiver, was another one of those dismissed. The plaintiff paid the costs. The case of Charles Kennedy against John Holman, for damages demanding $3,000, was also dismissed. Some time ago Holman offered to confess judgment in the sum of $700 and with the dismissal it is taken that his proposition was accepted. The costs were paid.

DARING RAID ON ENGLISH COAST

German Cruisers Today Shell Three
British seaport Cities, Doing Considerable Damage.

ENGLISH ENGAGE RAIDERS

Three Churches in Scarborough and Historic Abbey of Whitby Are Partially Destroyed.

(By United Press.)

London, Dec. 16 Germany today struck in force at England's seacoast. German cruisers which early today bombarded the towns of Scarborough, Hartlepool and Whitby are now engaged in a battle for their lives with the British squadron in the North Sea. In the three towns which were shelled, churches, public buildings and homes were set on fire and in a number of cases persons were killed and injured.

Four British destroyers have engaged the German warships which bombarded Hartlepool off that port. The admiralty has announced that other vessels have attacked the enemy at various points.

There are unconfirmed reports that German cruisers have been sunk and that the British fleet also has suffered. Owing to the censorship which has been established over all wires leading from the bombarded towns, the reports can not be confirmed.

The number of German ships which bombarded Hartlepool is placed at five. The bombardment of the towns lasted about a half hour, about fifty shells being fired.

In all fourteen persons are reported to have been killed. Many more are known to have been injured. A refugee from Scarborough, a private, arrived at Hull and said he saw three persons killed at Scarborough. Nine were killed at Scarborough.

German cruisers swooping down upon the English coast today made the most daring raid of the war, bombarding the seaport cities of Hartlepool, Scarborough and Whitby.

The historic abbey at Whitby was partially destroyed by shells from two cruisers three miles off shore. Three churches in Scarborough were struck and set on fire, numerous buildings were damaged, two railway station platforms destroyed and the population thrown into a panic which resulted in a wild rush for

Spinal Column, Where the Cause of Disease is Located

CHIROPRACTIC

(KI-RO-PRA-C-TIC)

The scientific method of removing the cause of all disease by adjusting to the normal position the misplaced (subluxated) vertebrae of the spinal column. The subluxated vertebra cause pressure on the Great Trunk Nerves which emanate between them, thus shutting off the transmission of vital current from the brain to some organ or part of the body to which they lead, leaving it in a weakened condition, subject to disease, causing over 95 per cent of all sickness and suffering known to mankind. Chiropractic adjustments remove the pressure (the cause of disease), restores the vital energy and health returns. I use the hands only. I ask no questions; simply analyze the spine and tell you every place you are affected.

Appendicitis Rheumatism, Nervousness, Asthma, Neuralgia, Deafness, Loss of Voice, Insomnia, Constipation, Bed Wetting, Headaches, Paralysis, Hay Fever, Catarrh, Goiter and affections of the Eyes, Nose, Throat, Lungs, Stomach, Liver, Spleen, (Heart), Bowels, Bladder, Kidneys and reproductive organs quickly and permanently disappear under Chiropractic adjustments properly given. Spinal Curvature quickly corrected. If you are sick or suffering in any way; if you have tried many physicians, specialists and medicines to no avail, then it is your plain duty to consult a chiropractor.

HOME-MADE MEDICINE

Best and Cheapest for Coughs

Most persons neglect a cough or cold for the principal reason that they either don't think it serious enough to go to a doctor, or don't know what good medicine to buy at a drug store, with the result that the cough or cold becomes deep-seated through this neglect and hangs on the whole winter—which might have otherwise been speedily cured, had Schiffmann's Concentrated Expectorant been used promptly.

This new remedy is so strongly concentrated that two ounces (50 cents worth) make a full pint (16 ozs.) of excellent cough medicine, by simply mixing it at home with one pint of granulated sugar and 1/2 pint of water. It makes a whole family supply, as much as would ordinarily cost from $2.00 to $3.00 for the same quantity of the old, ordinary, ready-made kinds of doubtful merit. It is prepared from strictly harmless plants and is so pleasant that children like to take it and it can be given them with perfect safety as it positively contains no chloroform, opium, morphine, or other narcotics, as do most cough mixtures. No risk whatever is run in buying this remedy as drug store named below will refund money if it does not give perfect satisfaction or is not found the very best remedy you have ever used for stubborn Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Croup, Whooping Cough and Hoarse ness. Asthma-Catarrh and Bronchitis

Can Be Greatly Relieved by the New External Vapor Treatment.

Melt in a spoon a little Vick's "Vapo-Rub" Croup and Pneumonia Salve and inhale the vapors. Put a little up each nostril and at night apply well over throat and chest, covering with a warm flannel cloth. Leave the covering loose around the neck so that the vapors of Menthol, Thymol, Eucalyptol, Camphor, and Pine Tar, that are released by the body heat, may be inhaled all night long. In Asthma and Hay Fever rub Vick's over the spinal column to relax the nervous tension. This treatment is not a "cure," but it has at least the merit of containing no harmful drugs and it is sold by all druggists in 25c, 50c, and $1.00 jars, on thirty days' trial. Vick's is also excellent for all croup and cold troubles.

An Estimate of Mr. Bryan.
The New York World classifies itself as an independent democratic newspaper and it is generally accepted as such with the soft pedal on the qualifying adjective. That newspaper now essays to give an impartial estimate of Mr. Bryan.

which democrats are likely to accept as half true, the half that is true and the half that is untrue being determined by locality or former alignment. Here is what the World says:
"We think he rendered a great service to the democratic party and the nation at the Baltimore convention, and have never hesitated to give him full credit. We think, too, that he has been irreproachably loyal to the president and that his political influence has been almost invaluable to the Wilson administration. The country, too, is under heavy obligation to him for the restraint he has exercised over his followers and for the public good that has come out of it."
"As an illustration Mr. Bryan in ten words could have prevented the passage of the banking and currency

Hoosier History In Tabloid

(Prepared by U. P. Press from the Records in State Library.)

Those who are boosting the proposed Lake Erie—Lake Michigan canal, which would extend across the northern part of Indiana connecting Chicago, Fort Wayne and other points with Lake Erie and shortening the haul to the eastern market, are encouraged by the history of early canal building in Indiana. Towns sprang up and trade received a great boom. Northern Indiana was "made" by the Wabash and Erie canal.

This canal, which would open to Indiana and the west a cheaper market for product, because of smaller freight rates, is the fourth big canal undertaken within Indiana. As a part of an extensive system of canals designed to open up the trade of the Middle West, the plans for the Wabash and Erie canal were made. Congress passed a bill in 1827 providing for a canal connecting the Wabash and Miami rivers with Lake Erie. On Feb. 22 amid great celebration the first ground was broken at Fort Wayne for the Wabash and Erie canal.

In the summer of 1836 boats began to ply and the first thirty-two miles of this canal, which had been built at a cost of $231,000. Towns began to spring up along its banks and gradually the canal was extended from the state line to Lafayette. Meanwhile an eastern division of the canal had been completed by Ohio and there was opened the largest continued line of artificial water communication in the world. Thus markets in the east were opened for home produce. Immense amounts of grain were shipped to paying markets.

Railroad competition proved too much for this canal. Also the state was in bad shape financially and could not keep up repairs. The canal was turned over to the Morris Canal and Banking Company, which completed it south to Evansville in 1853. The remainder of the story is mostly one of failure, losses and final abandonment.

Floods and the state debt also conspired to defeat the White canal completed in 1846 extending from Lawrenceburg to Hagerstown, built at a cost of $1,092,174.13. It was sold to a railroad and used for a road bed.

The Central canal proposed to run from Wabash via Anderson and Indianapolis to Evansville was only partially completed. Eight miles of it, between Indianapolis and Broad Ripple was built, and it now is used to furnish Indianapolis with its water supply.

"To review the whole situation," states the summary in the State Library, "the increase in population, the opening of transportation to the east—the new impetus given to productive farming, all these things and men—more were the results of the canals, which, though they seemed to cripple the state financially for a while were surely worth the effort and expense."

law. He could have had most of the west and south in revolt if he had but given the signal; yet he held his former free silver supporters in line for a conservative measure of banking and currency reform. There has been no instance since he became secretary of state in which his political influence, which the east used to regard as a menace to the republic itself, has not been used to promote the common good.

"It is on the administration side that Mr. Bryan has proved a sorry disappointment. He is a poor secretary of state because he has lost his capacity for hard, plodding, continuous effort. He has lectured and speechified and rear-platformed and junketed around for so many years that he is incapable of chaining himself to a desk and making himself master of the job.

"A great secretary of state in these times would be at his desk twelve hours a day. Mr. Bryan would rather be in state prison. He does not know what is going on in the state department. He does not know what ought to be going on there. He has no grasp of the duties because he has lost the taste for drudgery and no man who is unwilling to be a drudge can be a satisfactory secretary of state. Neither Jefferson nor John Quincy Adams nor Elihu Root learned his trade by intuition. They worked, and work is one of the things that Mr. Bryan will not do unless by chance he do it on a platform with cheers of the crowd ringing in his ears.

"An honorable man, an upright man, a man with noble ideas of international service and a noble faith in democratic institutions, he is a hopeless failure as secretary of state because sustained and systematic intellectual exertion."

SOME CASES OF WANT ARE CITED

of five children where the mother, who washes, and the father, who chops wood for a living, poll their earnings to keep the wolf away from the door. They find it a hard task because the father has work only about half of the time, he says.

In the same part of the city is a family of two children. The father deserted the family and the mother toils over the wash tub morning, noon and night to keep her children half way comfortable. In the near vicinity is a family of four children who are needy. The father has no work.

A neighbor of this family is a widow who is toiling vigilantly to support her four children. She washes for other people and sees little chance to have any savings from the family purse to buy Christmas presents for her little ones.

In West Second street is a family of five children, three of whom were placed on the Good Fellows list. The two older children work, but have had no employment for several weeks. There is also an aged grandfather who is dependent on the head of the house for support.

The cases are almost innumerable. Here's one where the father has steady employment but the mother is an invalid and the doctor's bill eats in on the income. Then there is another where the father makes ten dollars a week, but he is behind with his bills because of sickness and one death.

One pathetic incident was found in a home where the mother is dead and the three children are supported by the father and grandmother. They have had a difficult time because of indebtedness incurred while the mother was ill. She was in bed a year before her death and underwent an operation at Sexton's sanatorium.

So many cases were found where the father was out of work. In one family are two children where it is claimed the father worked only one day last week although he has a trade. In still another family are four children. The father has steady employment but for some unaccountable reason the children are always in distress; neither properly clothed or fed.

Two families of children, one which there are two and another in which there are four, were taken off the list today. Miss Nancy Hogsett will be a Good Fellow to the family of two and T. M. Green to the family of four.

English Lightweight Was Showing

OUTPOINTED IN LAST FIGHT

Illinois Should Give Any Eastern College Hard Fight if They Meet Next Fall.

(Written for United Press.)
BY HAL SHERIDAN.

New York, Dec. 16.—Freddie Welsh hasn't fought now for the last thirteen days. It's the longest period of truce the little English lightweight title-holder has observed since he started slamming Americans and being slammed by Americans some seven weeks back. Freddie was due for a rest. He was over-trained and stale. He showed this when Duffy outpointed him in Buffalo (Thanks to Buffalo for correcting a previous misstatement); and he showed it more when Young Joe Shugrue put the Jersey kibosh on him at the Madison Square Garden on December 2.

Although he hasn't worked at his regular trade for two weeks Freddie has been able to larrup the tar out of the wolf at the door by raking in divers and sundry shekels or farthings by two "exhibition dates," as he called them at Wilkesbarre, Dec. 10 and 11.

Once more we arise to remark in stringent tones that the Federal League is putting the baseball undertakers to complete shame. Hopping blithely into the midst of Organized Baseball, to sign the greatest pitcher the game has produced at $20,000 a year, constitutes a horrid faux pas among all elite corpses or ghosts. 'Tisnt done at all, you know.

If Illinois, by any chance is added to the repertoire of Eastern colleges next fall, the West stands more than an even chance of evening up the final tally in the intersectional melee. Michigan should give any Eastern team—Harvard included—a bitter battle unless seven or eight of those booked to return lose their eyesight or a leg or two. Notre Dame, also should be stronger than she was in 1914. As for Illinois, if Zupke does only as well next year as he did last fall any Eastern eleven that faces the Illinois will know they haven't been playing tiddle-de-winks.

in a drain. Two new books are needed by the clerk and treasurer under the system suggested by the state board of accounts. The clerk was instructed to get prices on the books.

Superintendent Mahin of the water and light plant reported that the city had trouble during the recent cold weather with water meters freezing. Four or five meters froze, but in every instance they were stationed in the cellar. He stated that the city was opposed to placing meters in the cellars and so advised all consumers. The meters when placed in the cellar are done so with the understanding that the city will not be responsible in case of freezing.

It was reported to the council that the men recently in charge of the Portola theatre left the city owing a $40 bill with only $22 on deposit. The council agreed that the next renter of this theatre would pay in advance as the city has lost enough from this room.

The council agreed to furnish light for the municipal Christmas tree as was done last year. Superintendent Mahin agreed to do the work free of charge.

ACT QUICKLY

Delay Has Been Dangerous in Rushville.

Do the right thing at the right time.

Act quickly in time of danger. In time of kidney danger Doan's Kidney Pills are most effective. Plenty of Rushville evidence of their worth.

G. Priest, 223 West Third street, Rushville, says: "For several years I had kidney trouble, which came on by spells. The complaint started with a dull pain just over my kidneys, then I became weak and dizzy. Doan's Kidney Pills were finally brought to my attention and were so highly recommended that I got a supply at Johnson & Co.'s Drug Store. They proved to be the best kidney medicine I had ever tried and in a short time, my kidneys were normal." (Statement given June 13, 1907.)

OVER FIVE YEARS LATER, Mr. Priest said: "I still use Doan's Kidney Pills when in need of a kidney tonic and the results are always satisfactory."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Priest had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Robes and Blankets

I want to make room for other goods and I must sell these at Reduced Prices on these goods.

Blankets and Robes

The finest Robes in the city of Rushville. These Robes are direct from the mills at Philadelphia. No jobbers ever handled these goods, so you will get them clean and I am going to give you a small cut on them for the next 30 days—Time or Cash. Sam Young says I am a durn fool for cutting goods like these. I have been in business myself for the last sixty years and in all this time I never looked on a nicer lot of goods than J. W. Tompkins has in his store, south of the court house. If you want to look at them come in my store and look them over and receive a present whether you buy or not. Everybody in Rush county knows Sam Young to be a straight hog buyer and will tell you the truth. Sometimes I don't blame Sam if he does this for any gain to himself. Sam is smarter than the balance of buyers I know of. He loses on every load he ships and always has plenty of money—Something wrong, Sam.

Closed Winter Buggies

The finest line of Closed Winter Buggies that ever was in the city, and I want everybody to come and look at what I have in stock. I have the price and I have the goods. Can sell on time or cash.

thought desirable and necessary that a great variety be furnished in order that the appetite be satisfied and the needs of the body economy met. This mis-apprehension has arisen from the quite universal custom of eating the wrong combinations of foods and foods which are deficient in nutritive properties. When a proper combination of not more than three or four articles of wholesome food is eaten, the appetite will be stimulated and the nutrition of the body greatly improved. Moreover, it assures certainty of digestion and gives nature a chance to show herself in the beauty of vigorous health.

What a man eats is more important than what he wears, or rides around in, or the drugs he takes for palliation, consequently it behooves us as intelligent parents and teachers to understand as much as possible, all food, not as faddists, nor as fanatics, but as rational human-beings able to render the greatest good to the greatest number.

The first step in an intelligent dietary reform is a reduction in quantity, which may be accomplished by erasing from your daily schedule some or more of that superfluous variety. You may rest assured there is nothing life-saving in excessive eating. It is just as much an abuse of the body as is idleness, and its result is a short life and a sad one, which is even worse than a short life and a merry one. All fried stuffs should be withheld from the sensitive digestive tract, simply because the acrolein produced by heating the common fats, is a poisonous irritant to the mucous membranes.

A small amount of fat goes a long way. Though children are exceedingly fond of fat, in the form of butter or cream, or the more delicately flavored nuts, yet they often have an equally decided distaste for the somewhat ranker and slightly musky flavors of the fat of mutton, beef and pork. Those of us whose memories go back to the period when children were brought up strictly and compelled to eat everything that was put upon their plates, can remember that the morsals that most frequently survived in tallow-like isolation upon that greasy surface were pieces—or, in the downright phraseology of childhoods, "gobs" of fat meats which, like castor oil, would not down.

In those days this distaste was regarded as pure perversity, but nature knew what she was about when she urged the child to cut most of the fat off of his meat and leave it on the plate. Careful observation and experiments on both children and grown-ups have shown that the fat of meat is far less digestible than that of cream and nuts—the trouble with nuts being that the children swallow them without thoroughly masticating them. And when fats fail to digest they undergo a rancid butyric-acid fermentation which creates a general disturbance of the inner man.

Individuals with catarrhal tendencies should omit cream, butter and milk to a great extent. Likewise, when treating colds and sore throats among children all dairy products and foods made from cereals are contra indicated.

In case you are compelled to eat a hurried meal—at the lunch counter or elsewhere—choose meats and eggs and green vegetables rather than carbohydrates or starches. The emotional or worrying individual will live much longer on meat diet than he will on a cereal diet. Meats and eggs are foods for animals that must eat on the run. Starchy foods must be thoroughly chewed and insalivated.

Drinking at meals is never a necessity and in every case can be dispensed with to advantage. Tea, coffee and cocoa have a debilitating effect upon the nervous system. They furnish nothing except the chance to spend faster. For this reason the habitual use of them by adults should be discouraged, and absolutely prohibited to children. Iced drinks so lower the temperature of the stomach as to seriously interfere with digestion. With the thorough mastication of food there is less tendency to drink with meals.

Incidentally, I want to impress upon your minds that there is no special food which nourishes the nerves or the brain, as has so often been claimed by a great many fakers who desire to sell their wares and advertise that this, that or the other food is "nerve food," or "brain food," as the case may be. There is no scientific foundation whatever for any such statements. The respective tissues of the body are nourished from one and the same blood stream, and it is utterly impossible to separate from foods the particular elements which of themselves would nourish certain portions of the body and neglect the other portions. The ordinary foods to which every body has access contain all the materials that constitute all the tissues of the body, and the person who can secure good meat, good bread, good vegetables and fruits, and then eat

BANQUET VOTED BEST HELD YET

P. J. Lynch, Rev. W. J. Cronin and Judge Head Speak at Knights of Columbus Event.

BERNARD MADDEN'S RECORD

Hit of Evening is Parody on Pat
Lynch Set to Tune of Late Popular Song.

The eleventh annual banquet of the Knights of Columbus last night was voted the best ever held. Over one hundred members of the Knights of Columbus and their families were in attendance. The headliners on the toast list were Patrick Lynch, of Newcastle, Republican candidate for congress in the last campaign, the Rev. Walter J. Cronin, of Richmond, formerly of this city, and Judge R. L. Head of Brookville.

The special "stunts" and songs of the glee club were the big features. John Geraghty acted as toastmaster and introduced P. J. Lynch, the first speaker. Will Shanahan, grand knight of the local council, welcomed the guests and introduced Mr. Geraghty. Mr. Lynch took for his subject "Knighthood and Citizenship." Mr. Lynch confined his remarks to recent attacks upon the Catholics and showed that members of the K. of C. order were among the most loyal to the country. He asserted that because their religion was Catholic was no indication that they were not good and loyal citizens.

Judge Head told several of his funny stories for which he is noted and urged that he receive an invitation to attend the banquet next year. Rev. Father Cronin spoke on "The Olden Days." This was Father Cronin's second visit to Rushville since he took charge of the church in Richmond and he was received enthusiastically by the order. He told of his friendly associations with the order here while he was pastor of St. Mary's church.

The Rev. M. W. Lyons followed. One of the big events of the evening came at the close of his talk when he presented Bernard Madden with an umbrella, the gift of the order. Madden has missed only two lodge meetings in the eleven years of the organization in this city, and in presenting the umbrella, Father Lyons stated that the reason he missed those two meetings was because it rained. In order that he may not miss any more, the umbrella was believed to be an appropriate gift. Mr. Madden holds the record for attendance in the order here.

A chorus composed of Mark Purcell, John Geraghty, James Mullins, Patrick Ryan, Ed Gantner, Father Lyons and George L. Todd sang several selections but the big hit came with the singing of a parody on Pat Lynch, to the tune of "It's a Long Long Way to Tipperary." The parody was as follows:

It's a long way to the halls of Congress
It's a long way to go
It's a long, long way to the hall of Congress,
Ask our friend Lynch—he should know.
Goodbye old Henry county, farewell roses fair.
It's a long, long way to the halls of Congress, but his heart's still there.

LEVY BROTHERS GET CONTRACT

Will Furnish Supplies and do Printing For Rush County During Coming Year.

BOARD ALLOWS TREE ON LAWN

As was expected the county commissioners awarded the contract for the county printing to Levy Brothers company of Indianapolis. After the bids were opened it was found that Levy's was the only one that could be considered because this company had complied with the law regarding the filing of a bond.

The bids of Levy Brothers was very much like the one of the year before under which they were given the contract. There was not much difference between their bid and that of the Washburn company of Terre Haute. The greatest difference was in the printing of the tax receipts for the treasurer's office. Levy offered to do the work for $1.50 a quire while Washburn bid only fifteen cents a quire.

The commissioners granted the Chamber of Commerce permission to place the Christmas tree on the court house lawn. The commissioners adjourned to meet on December 31.

trains from the city. The British patrol fleet has engaged the German raiders at several points, the admiralty announced. The outcome of the engagement had not been announced early this afternoon, but it was believed the fleet commanders were about to round up the enemy.

The first details of the bombardment came from Hull when refugees from Scarborough arrived there. They reported that the German vessels appeared off the coast soon after daylight. There were four of them. The bombardment of the town began at 7:56 a. m.

A statement from the war office supplementing an early announcement from the admiralty says:

"The fortress commander at west Hartlepool reports that German war vessels engaged the fortress between eight and nine o'clock this morning. They were driven off. A small German war vessel also opened fire on Scarborough and Whitby."

The report from the war office does not agree with stories told by the refugees from Scarborough. They declare four German cruisers took part in the bombardment of the town. From Whitby it is also stated two cruisers were engaged instead of one.

Between forty and fifty shells fell in Scarborough refugees said. The enemy's warship opened fire without warning. The first shells feeling for the range, landed in the section of the town close to the shore. The three churches which were struck stood out as targets by which the German gunners evidently directed their fire and all were struck early in the bombardment.

NINE PERSONS KILLED.

(By United Press.)

London, Dec. 16.—Nine persons are reported to have been killed and a number injured at Hartlepool in latest advices concerning the German bombardment of that place today.
